AUTHOR AGREEMENT FOR OPEN ACCESS

The American Journal of Physics offers authors the option to choose Open Access for their published articles. By supporting both publication and archiving costs through payment of a USD 3,000 fee, authors may instruct the journal to provide free online access to the published article, in perpetuity, to any online user. In addition, authors will retain copyright to their articles, which will be published under the Creative Commons (CC-BY) license.

By choosing AAPT's Open Access option you understand and agree that you must pay the open-access fee of USD 3,000 prior to publication of your article. You will retain copyright but must agree to apply the Creative Commons Attribution 3.0 Unported License (CC-BY) to your work. The CC-BY license applies only in the case of open access and cannot be chosen in conjunction with Regular Publication or without the payment of the open-access fee.

Authors choosing Open Access also grant the American Association of Physics Teachers (AAPT) a license to publish the article and to be acknowledged as the publisher of record (original publisher) of the work. In granting this license to AAPT the authors also represent and warrant that the article is original and does not infringe any copyright or violate any other right of any third parties.

If each author's signature does not appear below, the signing author(s) represent that they sign this Agreement as authorized agents for and on behalf of all the authors, and that this Agreement and authorization is made on behalf of all authors. The signing author(s) also represent and warrant that they have the full power to enter into this Agreement and to make the grants contained herein.
